

J. L. Lewis To Attend Peace Conference

Raises Hopes For Ending Coal Strike

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6—(AP)—A meager two-word message from John L. Lewis accepting a government peace conference call today primed hopes for settlement of the 18-day old coal strike.

But the steel walkout followed on an uneventful course with nobody doing anything aimed at ending the nationwide shutdown.

"Will attend" was the brusque answer United Mine Workers chief Lewis gave a summons by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. Lewis and coal operators will go to Washington tomorrow for a conference with mediation Director Cyrus Ching.

Operators Agree

The operators agreed earlier to take part in the government's first try at settling the mine shutdown. The federal mediators' three attempts to find a happy solution to the steel dispute ended in failure. Both strikes are over pensions. Coal miners struck Sept. 19 after Lewis suspended pension payments. Lewis blamed southern operators for forcing the suspension. He said they refused further royalty payments into the UMW pension and welfare fund. Actually the fight's over a new contract. About 380,000 diggers are now idle.

Nearly 500,000 steelworkers struck Saturday to support their demands for free pensions and social insurance.

President Truman thinks neither strike has become critical enough to justify intervention.

Will Not Intervene

He told a news conference that recent governmental warning of an approaching crisis were well timed. But since the crisis hasn't arrived, he feels the situation hasn't reached a stage calling for his intervention.

Mr. Truman won three extensions of the steel strike deadline. He has done nothing about the coal strike.

Wall Street isn't worrying. The stock market made fresh progress with steel shares doing as well as most others. That indicates traders aren't concerned about the possibility of long coal and steel tieups.

Marketing Quotas Of Corn Must Be Set By February 1

Washington, Oct. 6—(AP)—The Senate's new farm bill gives Secretary of Agriculture Brannan until Feb. 1 of next year to proclaim marketing quotas upon the 1950 corn crop—if he decides they are needed.

The provision for applying possible government controls to planting and marketing of corn was noted by Senator Anderson (D-Neb.) when he filed a report from the agriculture committee late today on the revised bill.

With a large surplus of corn now remaining from last year's crop, and another bumper crop indicated for harvest this year, controls appear likely.

Agriculture department officials had complained they were confused by conflicting provisions of existing farm laws. The pending price-support law allows these quotas for corn to be proclaimed until August of next year. The so-called Aiken flexible price support law, due to operate January 1 as amended by the Anderson bill, would require such a proclamation in November.

5 Defendants In Shakespeare Riot Trial Released

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 6—(AP)—Five defendants in the long Shakespeare riot trial were placed on one year's probation today and ordered to pay $1,000 each in costs.

A sudden reduction in charges against the five CIO United Steelworkers officials brought the trial to a quick end.

On a motion of the defense, Circuit Judge Early C. Pugsley today accepted pleas of guilty to conspiracy for mass picketing—a misdemeanor. At the same time eight felony counts were dropped.

Today's developments cut short the possibility of another lengthy legal battle in the Shakespeare case. The first trial run seven weeks—longest in Kalamazoo county history. It ended in a hung jury Aug. 1.

The retrial began last Tuesday. Sentenced today were Thomas Sharr, Michigan U.S.W. director; Glenn E. Sigman, international representative; and Field Representatives Robert L. Farmer, Arthur Menozzi and Clarence A. Jackson.

The reduction in charges reportedly came after conferences between the defense and prosecution.

Hannegan, Who Helped Put Truman In, Dies

St. Louis, Oct. 6—(AP)—Robert E. Hannegan, a master politician who helped put Harry S. Truman on the path to the White House, died today of a heart ailment.

The former postmaster general and former president of the St. Louis Cardinals had been in failing health since 1946, but his death was unexpected. He was only 46.

Starting as a war politician in St. Louis, Hannegan packed a notable political career into 15 years. He died at his home here shortly after 9:00 a.m. (CST). He was ill during the night, and his physician had been called.

Hannegan resigned as postmaster general in November, 1947, to head a group buying the St. Louis National league baseball club. Just over a year later he sold his interest to his major partner, Fred M. Saigh.

AFL Renews Bid For Single Labor Union In America

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 6—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor today renewed its bid for a merger with the CIO into a single U.S. labor organization.

The AFL convention authorized its leaders to "initiate and support" unity efforts. The action may prompt new merger negotiations with the rival CIO.

Several prior CIO-AFL merger talks have bogged down over the relative influence rival leaders of the two organizations would have in a single, new labor group. There is no indication this and other basic difficulties have been overcome.

But the AFL convention today declared that "cooperation in the economic and legislative fields, as in the political field, can be only partially successful as long as division within the ranks of labor continues."

Truman Doubts Russ Atom Control Plan Acceptable

Washington, Oct. 6—(AP)—President Truman said today he doubts that Russia is cooking up an acceptable atomic bomb control plan. The Soviets will make a new arms control statement next Tuesday at the United Nations. The big question is: will they have a new slant on atomic bomb control now that an atomic explosion in Russia has been reported by the U.S.?

Mr. Truman wasn't excited by this prospect. A newsman told him at his news conference that it was reported that Russians were about to make "some new proposal for disarmament." He asked if Mr. Truman would look forward to hearing about it.

Not necessarily, Mr. Truman replied. He said any number of proposals had been made that could not be accepted and this will probably be in the same class.

The President did state his hope that the world can avoid an arms race and that the United Nations will still come up with an effective control of the atomic bomb.

NATIONALS REPORT KILLING 10,000 REDS

Canton, China, Oct. 6—(AP)—The Chinese Nationalists reported today they had killed or wounded 10,000 Communists in a battle 315 miles northwest of Canton.

The military spokesman, Gen. Teng Wen-Yi, said fighting still was in progress 50 miles northwest of Hengyang, Nationalist command headquarters, but that the Reds were in retreat. He estimated their numbers at 30,000 to 40,000.

Union, Company Agree To End Hawaii Strike

Honolulu, Oct. 6—(AP)—Employers and union leaders announced agreement today to settle Hawaii's 139-day-old stevedore strike.

A statement from employers stressed that the agreement still was on an "off the record" basis and still must be ratified in a direct "on-the-record" meeting between formal committees.

However, settlement was assured, and Harry Bridges, union president, said union members certainly would ratify it at a meeting at 4:30 p.m. (CST) this afternoon.

The agreement called for a raise of 14 cents an hour now, plus an additional 7 cents next March 1 for the territory's 2,000 CIO stevedores.

The pre-strike wage was $1.40 an hour. The union struck May 1, demanding a raise of 32 cents.

U. S. Starts Anti-Trust Investigation Of AMA

Chicago, Oct. 6—(AP)—The department of justice has started an anti-trust investigation of the American Medical Association and 15 affiliated medical organizations.

The AMA board of trustees calls it an effort to "discredit American medicine and terrorize physicians into abandoning their opposition to compulsory health insurance."

The department of justice, on the other hand, says it is looking into complaints of an effort to "monopolize" prepaid medical care plans.

Attorney General J. Howard McGrath got out a statement after the AMA board has disclosed the inquiry and complained that its offices had been broken into in a search for records.

The statement: "The Justice department has received numerous complaints from doctors and the general public charging the American Medical Association and certain other medical associations with conspiring to restrain and monopolize the pre-paid medical care plans not conducted under their sponsorship and operated in competition with plans controlled by them. Should the investigation disclose that the complaints are well founded and a violation of law exists, further action by the department of justice to eliminate such violation would seem to be indicated."

The board also said their private offices were broken into and "thoroughly searched" Feb. 10 while medical officials were charting their campaign in opposition to compulsory health insurance.

Dr. George F. Lull, secretary-general manager of the AMA, said "no accusations are made against the department of justice." But he added the robbery incident is one of "real significance in the chronology of events" since the AMA decided to oppose compulsory health insurance.

AMA officials called a news conference to disclose the investigation. Newsmen were handed a justice notice of investigation and a police robbery complaint.

Asks Truman's Aid In Suit Against Western Union

Danville, Ill., Oct. 6—(AP)—Raymond W. Nichols told a federal court today he has asked President Truman for help in his $50,000,000 suit against the Western Union Telegraph company.

Nichols of Morrisville, Minn., and St. Petersburg, Fla., describes himself as a "citizen and taxpayer." His suit claims Western Union is depriving the federal government of postal revenue.

In a handwritten petition he filed by mail from McLean Va., Nichols said he has sent to Mr. Truman a request that the post office and justice departments intervene and assist him in the suit.

The petition asked the court for a 30 day extension on its Sept. 22 order that he post $2,000 bond to guarantee court costs of his suit. I. said Nichols expects that a Washington, D. C., bonding company will furnish bond for him.

Nichols' suit contends that Western Union "illegally transmits first class mail without postage" by handling communications that otherwise would have to be mailed and violated the post office departments' constitutional monopoly of the mails.

He might get a percentage of any damages collected by the government from Western Union as a result of the suit.

Joint Atom Group Votes To Call Off AEC Investigation

Washington, Oct. 6—(AP)—Splitting 10 to 8, the Senate-House atomic committee voted today against resuming its investigation of the atomic energy commission on "incredible mismanagement" charges.

Ten Democrats outvoted eight Republicans in refusing to reopen the inquiry which was started at the demand of Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), bitter critic of Commission Chairman David E. Lilienthal.

Another session was ordered, however, to hear Secretary of the Air Force Symington with two deputies on an unexplained subject.

Reporting the committee's closed session action, Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) said that Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) told the committee he had received some information since the committee's hearings ended on which he wished to question the men. McMahon wouldn't say more about it and Knowland brushed past reporters without divulging any information.

One Capitol Hill source said the matter was a high-level secret.

Hickenlooper had asked for a further inquiry into four areas of activities of the AEC. He said he wanted closed hearings on "matters we can't talk about publicly."

Congress Steps Up Pace To Pass Bills On Flood Control

Washington, Oct. 6—(AP)—Congressional units acted today on two bills stepping up the pace of flood control and river and harbor construction programs of the army engineers.

1. Senate and House adopted and sent to the White House the compromise appropriation bill for army civil functions. It makes a record $634,920,080 available for waterways work during the fiscal year ending next June 30.

2. The Senate public works committee approved new work authorizations estimated to cost $1,564,228,550 during the next three or four years. The bill now goes to the Senate. If approved there, it must go back to the House for concurrence in the changes, money for the projects must be voted in future appropriations bills before work can begin.

The appropriation bill was passed in the House on a 269 to 18 roll call vote. The Senate voice vote was unanimous.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 6—(AP)—Annie M. DeLoach, a sales representative for the Shedd-Bartus Food company of Detroit, was found dead today in his room in a Fort Wayne hotel.

Detective Charles Henderson, who investigated, said a heart attack apparently caused death.

U. S. Blasts Russian Tactics In East Zone

Matthews Denies Navy Morale Is Wrecked

Washington, Oct. 6—(AP)—Secretary of the Navy Matthews denied today that naval morale is wrecked, and ordered charges placed against a defiant captain who "leaked" navy papers picturing the nation's security as imperiled under the unified defense setup.

Captain John C. Crommelin, suspended and confined to the city, awaited the drafting of "appropriate charges" and a possible court martial.

The House armed services committee, however, took secret testimony from a higher officer, Admiral A. W. Radford, on the row in the pentagon. Then it voted—over Secretary Matthews' protest—to make it public tomorrow.

It was learned that Radford, commander of the Pacific fleet, warned congress against believing any third World War will be a short one, in which the United States can expect to get a quick victory through the Air Force's B-36 bomber.

Without belittling the role of high-level, long-range bombing, Radford reportedly said the nation must expect to use its sea power, adequately fortified with naval aviation.

From this account of the testimony, it became clear that congress was launched on a wide-ranging search into the topmost realm of defense strategy. Twenty-one more of the navy's big guns will appear.

Behind the uproar was Capt. Crommelin, 46, a flying veteran—and successful at last in getting a full-dress hearing of his charges that the navy is being "nibbled away" by decisions of the newly united military set-up.

Secretary Matthews denounced Crommelin's unauthorized disclosures in harsh terms. He spoke angrily of a "blemish on navy tradition," of disloyalty, "faithlessness and insubordination."

He asked the committee not to make public Admiral Radford's testimony. It might contain nothing militarily secret, he said, but would aid any enemy to the extent that it disclosed "serious differences of policy and procedure."

Cape Girardeau, Mo., Oct. 6—(AP)—A mystery in southeast Missouri has a first class mystery on its hands.

Paint jobs on several hundred automobiles developed blisters this morning. Some are the "size of match heads, others as big as dimes."

And inside of each is a drop or two of water. There are no punctures in the paint bubbles to indicate how the water got there.

Insurance companies have been getting all kind of calls, but they can offer no explanation. Nor can the men who work with paint.

Some people think that maybe it's the moisture in the air. Cape Girardeau has had 6.70 inches of rain since last Sunday.

Professor A. C. Magill, head of the chemistry department of the state college here, said he couldn't understand it. If the air contains an element that mair paint it should also irritate lungs.

No one has reported such irritation.

SIX COLLEGE GIRLS SPEND NIGHT HUDDLED ON MOUNTAIN SIDE

Montreal, N. C., Oct. 6—(AP)—A rescue party found six hungry, wet and frightened Montreal college girls on cold Greybeard mountain today. They had been missing 12 hours.

They went hiking yesterday, their object the mountain summit five miles away. But darkness and fog closed in. They huddled all night, two raincoats among them.

After dawn they started down the mountain and were met by a search party.

Treatment Of Lost Yanks Denounced

Washington, Oct. 6—(AP)—The United States today bitterly denounced Russia's strong arm tactics in eastern Germany in two hotly worded notes.

The state department hurled this one-two diplomatic punch at Moscow amid reports a Russian supported "government" is about to be proclaimed in the Soviet zone of Germany.

The department led off with an official note which angrily protested the "shocking mistreatment" handed out by the Russians to Americans who wander by accident into eastern Germany.

One Of Toughest
This note, one of the toughest ever sent to Moscow, accused authorities of violating "the most elementary standards of international decency" when they imprisoned these Americans under "brutal conditions."

A few hours later, Undersecretary of State Webb followed this up with a bluntly worded charge that Russia has reduced eastern Germany to "an oppressive police state." And he added, Moscow is now trying to create a "dictatorial unrepresentative" puppet government to rival the western German republic.

Mining no words, Webb also declared the Russians are "looting" the natural and industrial resources of their zone; reopening concentration camps; strangling free economic life in eastern Germany and making conditions so unendurable that hundreds of thousands have fled to the western zones.

Envoys To Confer
The state department also announced it had called all American envoys in eastern Europe to an extraordinary state conference in London October 24.

The parity reportedly was scheduled to map plans for countering increasingly bitter Soviet propaganda against the United States and to consider further ways of helping Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito in his struggle against Soviet domination.

The state department made public the latest American protest to Russia a few hours after it was delivered to the Soviet foreign office.

The note put Russia on "notice" that in the future the United States "insists" that Russian authorities abide by international law "which governs the conduct of all civilized states."

The original text given reporters demanded that Russian officials responsible for mistreating Americans be "punished." The state department later toned this down to say the United States "expects" that Moscow will issue instructions "to prevent a recurrence of such incidents."

The state department officially declined to give any details about the forthcoming meeting of the seven American ambassadors from "iron curtain" countries in London.

Decatur Bus Line Patrons Support Fare Hike Request

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 6—(AP)—A bus load of 40 patrons appeared before the Illinois Commerce Commission today to support the request of Suburban Transportation Corporation to operate buses in and around Decatur.

The request was taken under advisement by the commission after several bus riders testified they had been without any transportation from suburban areas to Decatur until the corporation set up its route.

The company now is seeking a certificate to continue operations.

The residents were brought here by Charles and James Emert, brothers who work for the corporation. The brothers said they did not know they had to be certificated by the commerce commission.

Fred Pettit, speaking for the Decatur City Lines, said his firm opposed the certificate. He said the corporation is infringing upon Decatur City Lines' territory.

U. S. BACKS KAISER

Washington, Oct. 6—(AP)—The government today backed Kaiser-Frazer plans for a new low price automobile with a $34,400,000 loan to the company.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation announced the big loan with the stated purpose of helping K-F "complete their line of cars."

ACTIONS SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS

Two months ago a pair of American students cycling in Germany were arrested by Russian authorities. They were held prisoner until Sept. 28.

In that interval, the two youths told U. S. officials, they were confined in what they described as "dungeons." What had they done to offend the Russians? The two cyclists said Soviet authorities thought they were spies. The basis for this suspicion was the fact that the lads had innocently ventured into the Russian zone on their sight-seeing trip. "We did not realize how serious this was," said one.

This was a comparatively mild instance of a practice that goes on all the time along the border between the Soviet and the western zones of Germany. A more striking example came to U. S. notice a few weeks ago when an American soldier was released by the Russians after long imprisonment.

What had been his offense? He boarded the wrong streetcar in Berlin. It took him into the Soviet sector of the city, where he had no desire to go. Whereupon he was arrested as a spy suspect.

The young GI told American authorities that in an effort to force a "confession" from him the Russians beat him brutally a number of times and gave him the "water treatment."

This last is a little something dreamed up by our eastern friends to induce a certain humility in persons who are being grilled. The prisoner is made to stand for 24 hours in a room filled with water to a height above his knees.

As we have suggested, incidents of this sort are rather commonplace. The only reason for taking note of them is to remind Americans here at home what the Russians are really doing.

Now that the United Nations is meeting again in New York, Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky has his handy propaganda sounding board against which he can shout the evils of "war-mongering" Americans and British and proclaim the virtues of his native people.

You hear a lot of chatter about the Soviet Union's peaceful intentions and the wonders of the "people's democracy." It's old stuff, but Vishinsky is working on the well-worn but not exactly stupid theory that repetition often drives ideas home.

That is why it pays to refresh our minds from time to time on the story of Russian actions—as contrasted with Russian words.

Any time you get to thinking that maybe Vishinsky and Co. are talking straight and it is we Americans who are the culprits, just close your eyes and visualize that young soldier standing knee-deep in cold water. For boarding the wrong streetcar.

Court Orders Sanity Hearing In Lair Case

A sanity hearing for Elisha H. Lair, the hospital from the county jail where he was held for a time after the life and health of a child, has been ordered by Judge Clem Smith in circuit court.

Judge Smith ordered that 18 persons be summoned for jury service on Oct. 11 at 1:30 p.m., it appearing Sunday to the court that defendant may not be compos mentis.

Lair is now a patient at the Jacksonville State hospital where he was taken on a voluntary commitment a month ago. He was transferred to the sanity hearing.

Local Teachers To Attend Civil Service Meeting

Mrs. Margaret Norvell, teacher at Hardin Brown business college, and Mrs. Sarah Paton, teacher of business subjects at MacMurray college, will be in Springfield Saturday to attend a "permanent monitor" meeting sponsored by the Illinois civil service commission.

Permanent monitors assist the commission in giving state civil service examinations in the areas in which the monitors live. They may be completely in charge of an examining center, or for large examinations they usually assist a civil service staff member. This procedure enables the commission to establish more examining centers to accommodate applicants and thereby reduce the travel of those persons taking the examinations.

Permanent monitors are local representatives of the commission. In addition to administering examinations, they help recruit applicants for the examinations.

In Springfield, the monitors will receive complete instruction in how to give a state civil service examination. Recruiting and training activities will be discussed. Explanations will be made of the recent changes in the civil service act. There will be a discussion of the Illinois merit system council, which recruits and examines employees for the 101 downstate county departments of welfare.

The conclave will end with a business session on Monday.

New Look Fading, Slim Silhouette Now Reappearing

The new look seems to be through and the slim silhouette appears to be on the way back, according to fall fashion trends noticed in the second annual fashion fair at New York.

Now more than ever women are trying frantically to take off the extra bulges. In recent months many weight-reducing preparations have appeared on the market, some of them based on "the diet and vitamin plan," which means cut down on the intake of food and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress.

A survey among drug stores in Illinois shows that one preparation, Rennel, which is the outstanding seller in the reducing field, is not based on this vitamin plan.

Any Illinois druggist can supply you with 4 ounces of Rennel. Just add this to 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take according to directions. No starvation diet. The makers of Rennel guarantee to refund your money if the very first bottle does not show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Four ounces of Rennel costs little and hundreds of Illinois women have highly endorsed it.

Boyle's Column

It's Enough To Drive Hatless Men To Cover

By Saul Pett
(For Hal Boyle Who is Traveling)
New York.—P.—This is a rough week for us men who don't wear hats.

By Saturday, if we make it that long, we'll probably feel un-American.

You see, the people who make and sell hats sold only about 72,000,000 hats last year for about $250,000,000 and this year they would like to make and sell more. So-o-o-o-o-o—

This is National Hat week.

Campaign Waging
An intensive campaign to eliminate the hatless man is being waged in some cities by more than 9,000 hat retailers and 135 manufacturers. The industry calls this the greatest promotional campaign in history.

There are or will be more ads in the papers and more commercials on the air about men's hats than ever before. On television, they're sending fashion shows and one clinic ical program takes a hat apart and shows how it made.

Fashion shows with live models are planned by department stores in Chicago, Washington, Richmond and many other cities.

The mayor of Philadelphia, the "hat city of the east," is reported sending a super-deluxe model to President Truman. Danbury, Conn., the "hat capital of the country," has special plans, too.

In Philadelphia and New Britain, Conn., pretty models and beauty queens will circulate in the streets awarding free hat certificates to the "best hatted men."

Display Past Favorites

In New York, up and down 20 blocks of Fifth Avenue, the stores are showing hats worn by various great men in the past 200 years. In one window you can see an orange straw top hat worn by the Marquis De Lafayette when he made his triumphant tour of the United States in 1825.

A few doors down there are Daniel Webster's straw hat, Bill Cody's ten-gallon, Will Rogers polo helmet, Daniel Frohman's derby and high silk toppers worn by Jimmy Walker and John Barrymore.

The hat research foundation, sponsors of the project, tried to get the historic campaign fedora worn by Franklin D. Roosevelt but the government won't let it out of Hyde Park.

The foundation did get Lincoln's stovepipe hat, Edwin Booth's elegant tasseled smokingcap, W. C. Field's black snapbrim felt, a Dutchman's leather helmet of 1702 and the original big, black curled brim headgear which made Fiorella LaGuardia known as "The Hat."

It's going to be a rough week.

Circuit Judges Await Supreme Court Ruling On Divorce Division

Judges Clem Smith, Dewitt S. Crow and L. E. Wilhite of the seventh judicial circuit in a joint statement Thursday announced that they have decided to withhold the establishment of a divorce division in this circuit, or the appointment of any personnel in connection with such a division, until after such time as the Illinois supreme court has passed upon the validity of the act, passed by the last legislature.

The Seventh Judicial circuit comprises the counties of Sangamon, Morgan, Macoupin, Greene, Scott and Jersey.

An act for the appointment of a master in chancery in each downstate and Cook county judicial circuit to handle divorce matters was passed by the last legislature.

Such officials would be entirely different from the present masters-in-chancery in each county and only one would be appointed in a circuit.

The purpose of a master in chancery in each circuit would be to supervise the custody of children, investigate requests for support money and assist in preventing delinquency of support money payments.

Seventeen judicial circuits are included among downstate counties of Illinois.

Program On Art Features Meeting At Murrayville

A program on art was the highlight of the meeting of the Murrayville Domestic Science club, held at the home of Mrs. Fred Simpson.

Mrs. L. C. Collins, chairman of the club's art and literature department, presented a talk on the subject. A famous painting was named by 11 members and one guest, Mrs. C. H. Griffith, in response to roll call.

Also included on the program were talks by Mrs. Vincent VanHorn, who described her vacation in Minnesota, and Mrs. M. J. Benscoter, who gave a biographical sketch of James Whitcomb Riley and read his famous poem, "When the Frost Is On the Pumpkin."

The pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. Simpson and the club collect was given by Mrs. Benscoter. Mrs. H. G. Strang, president, conducted a brief business session preceding the program. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The first political convention to be telecast was the 1940 meeting of the Republicans in Philadelphia.

Jeweler Ordered To Trial In Case Of Bombed Liner

Quebec, Que., Oct. 6.—(AP)—J. Albert Guay today was ordered to stand trial for murder in connection with an explosion-provoked crash of a transport plane in which 23 persons, including Guay's wife, were killed.

The decision to commit the 32-year-old jeweler to trial came on the third day of his preliminary hearing. The trial will start during criminal assizes which begin next Tuesday.

The prosecution contends that Guay arranged to have a bomb placed aboard a Canadian Pacific Airlines plane which crashed Sept. 9, killing all aboard.

OUSTED FROM PARTY

Frankfurt, Germany, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Three prominent Communist officials in Germany's industrial Ruhr were expelled from the party today.

The Düsseldorf party headquarters said the ousted men had tried to "undermine the party in the interests of moral rearmament." They were identified as Max Bladen, Isabel Cully, Notary Public, Paul Kuroski and Willi Benedek.

IN THE U. S. A., THEY'RE STILL DP'S—After seven years in displaced persons camps in Europe, these eight families sharing the basement of a Ukrainian Orthodox Church in Cleveland, O., find they're still DP's. These refugees, along with 38 others in Cleveland, are homeless because sponsors who agreed to care for some of them changed their minds, and because more DP's came than were expected. Clothes, food and money are provided by church parishioners. Canvas cots, blankets and pillows were supplied by the Red Cross. Although their shipboard dreams of life in the U. S. A. are far from fulfilled, the refugees are thankful to be permitted to stay and hope soon to begin a normal family existence.

Mr. and Mrs. Greer told of their trip to Italy, France and England, where they visited American cemeteries. They were at Anzio Beach on Decoration day, when Gen. Mark Clark spoke, and at Omaha Beach on E day. Next year, they plan to visit the Pacific theater.

Eta Sigma Chapter of the National Service Fraternity Alpha Phi Omega held its first open meeting Wednesday evening, October 5, in Jones Chapel at Illinois College. The fraternity is a campus organization of all college men formerly or at present associated with the Boy Scouts. The Illinois college Chapter has been active on projects since its organization last spring.

The president of the Chapter is Russell Walton; secretary, Don Rik; treasurer, Bill Mills; historian, Angelo Spinnazola.

Plans for the coming year include an all-school dance sponsored by A. P. O. Saturday night from 8:30 to 12; an extensive pledge program; and serving as guides to the visitors on tours of the campus. Lloyd Grauke of I.S.D. outlined tentative plans for a new Scout troop at the Illinois School for the Deaf, calling for scout masters from the Chapter.

In their brief history the chapter has served the college and community through sponsoring dances, revising the Handbook, conducting Freshman week, and aiding Scout troops throughout the city.

All interested I. C. men who have in the past been affiliated with the Boy Scouts are welcome to become a part of A.P.O.

STRIKERS' JALOPY DOES DOUBLE DUTY—This broken-down jalopy, used by striking steelworkers at Bethlehem, Pa., serves a dual purpose. Besides carrying union slogans, the auto also hauls hot coffee and soup to the picket lines. Even without the slogan, the auto bears living testimony to the fact that "machinery wears out."

Southern Illinois Swept By Heavy Rain, High Winds

Du Quoin, Ill., Oct. 6—(P)—A heavy rain storm and high winds swept southern Illinois last night. Illinois police headquarters here reported that several automobiles were "drowned out" and stalled but that no major accident occurred.

The heavy rain came after three days of intermittently hard rains. The U. S. weather bureau at Cairo reported 2.34 inches of rain during the period there.

Alexander county harvesting of cotton, corn and beans was halted and it was expected that it could not be resumed for at least another week.

Jackson county farmers reported beans were shattering because of excess moisture.

Expert Warns Against X-Ray Fitting Devices

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 6—(P)—Watch your step when fitting for a new pair of shoes with an X-Ray or fluoroscope device.

Leon Kirschner, state industrial hygiene expert, says that investigations have disclosed a "shocking number of very high and dangerous exposures to X-Ray examinations" to both operators and customers.

Writing in the October issue of the State Labor department's bi-monthly bulletin, Kirschner states that no person should have more than 20 exposures a year.

He also says that no one should be exposed more than five seconds at any one fitting and X-Ray intensities should vary for men, women and children as safe tolerances differ because of age and sex. Kirschner also warns that no one should place his feet in the chamber unless both shoes are on—never in stocking feet.

Name Supervisors Of Safety Rules

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 6.—(P)—Four supervisors on school transportation safety were named today by Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of schools. They will work with school administrators, bus drivers and children in emphasizing the need for obeying safety regulations.

Those appointed are E. E. Gardner of Lyndon, H. N. Bloomquist of Galesburg, G. E. Mayhew of Greenville and F. J. Tate of Mattoon.

Nickell said that 2,600 school districts will transport 169,000 pupils in 3,900 busses, during the current school year.

Carbondale, "Little City Of Generals," Has Slogan, Crossroads Of America

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 6.—(P)—This southern Illinois university town has been variously designated as "the little city of generals" and the "tree city." Its expanding future may fulfill the ambitious slogan that appears on a tourist information booth at the junction of routes 13 and 51 "the crossroads of America."

Founded in 1852 by Daniel H. Brush, Carbondale has increased its population by 7,000 since 1940, mainly through expansion of southern Illinois university and increased tourist business stemming from development of Crab Orchard and adjacent lakes. Now over 15,000 people live and work here.

Brush gained the rank of colonel of his regiment in the Civil War, and that of brigadier general by brevet. His son, Daniel H. Brush, a graduate of West Point, and his grandson, Ralph Brush, both became generals in the army.

Two World War II Generals
Carbondale produced two World War II generals—Brigadier General Robert Davis, ex-publisher of the Carbondale Free Press, and John R. Hodge, lieutenant general. Gen. Hodge, who received the surrender of the Japanese in Korea and became the military government chief in Korea until it was returned to the Koreans, is now commanding general at Fort Bragg, N. C. General Davis, now retired, is president of the Southern Illinois university board.

For years a railroad center, Carbondale is now branching into other industries. Among these are the Prairie Farms Creamery, the Huge Illinois fruit growers exchange through which passes much of the delectable Egyptian harvest of peaches and apples, the Good Luck glove factory, the New Era Dairy and the American paint manufacturing company.

Since 1899 the St. Louis division headquarters of the Illinois Central, extending from Centuria on the north to Fulton, Ky., on the south, have been in Carbondale. The city is on the I. C. north-south main line, with connecting links to St. Louis. The I. C. employs 650 men from Carbondale, and 3,500 in the entire division.

Five Labor Union Candidates Voted To Oglesby School

Oglesby, Ill., Oct. 6.—(P)—Five candidates supported by labor unions were elected today to fill vacancies on the Oglesby school board caused by a teacher hiring row.

The balloting was held yesterday, but tallies were not completed until the early hours today.

James J. Scallanini, a cement works foreman, was elected president of the board. His total of 1,346 votes defeated Isaac F. Mason, an insurance man who headed the opposing "law and order" slate of candidates. Mason had 786 votes.

Other new board members are Earl Hocking, a laborer (for the term ending April, 1950); Joseph J. Stella, union painter (April, 1951); Mrs. Lunette Hansen, foreman at the Floor Electrical plant, and Malcolm Condie, a cement worker (April, 1952).

Earl Hocking defeated his cousin Wayne Hocking 1,227 to 870. Stella had 1,143 votes to 710 for Eugene Farnetti. Mrs. Hansen's ballots totaled 1,165 and Condie had 1,315. William Welch and Alfred Trump, who opposed them in the '52 term, had 736 and 714 votes respectively.

A total of 2,183 votes was cast in this town of 4,200.

The election was held because of the resignation of four board members Sept. 6. They said they were protesting "mob action."

The resigning members asserted that the "mob action" forced them to re-hire a teacher, Mrs. Helen Mecum, 48, a member of an AFL union. Mason changed his stand on the Mecum hiring question in the face of a crowd of 1,000 which surged into a board meeting Sept. 6.

VILLA GROVE GUESTS EAT TON OF SAUSAGE

Villa Grove, Ill., Oct. 6.—(P)—Oh, it was a big time in little Villa Grove yesterday. Lots of folks—some say 16,000 all together—were on hand for the 10th annual pancake festival.

They ate a ton of sausages, 125,000 pancakes, 1,200 pints of syrup, 250 pounds of butter, 25 gallons of cream and plenty of coffee.

Then there was a pancake flipping contest. Doyle Burton, 33, out-flipped all flippers to take the title. The father of three children, he commented:

"I guess I'll have to cook breakfast from here on out."

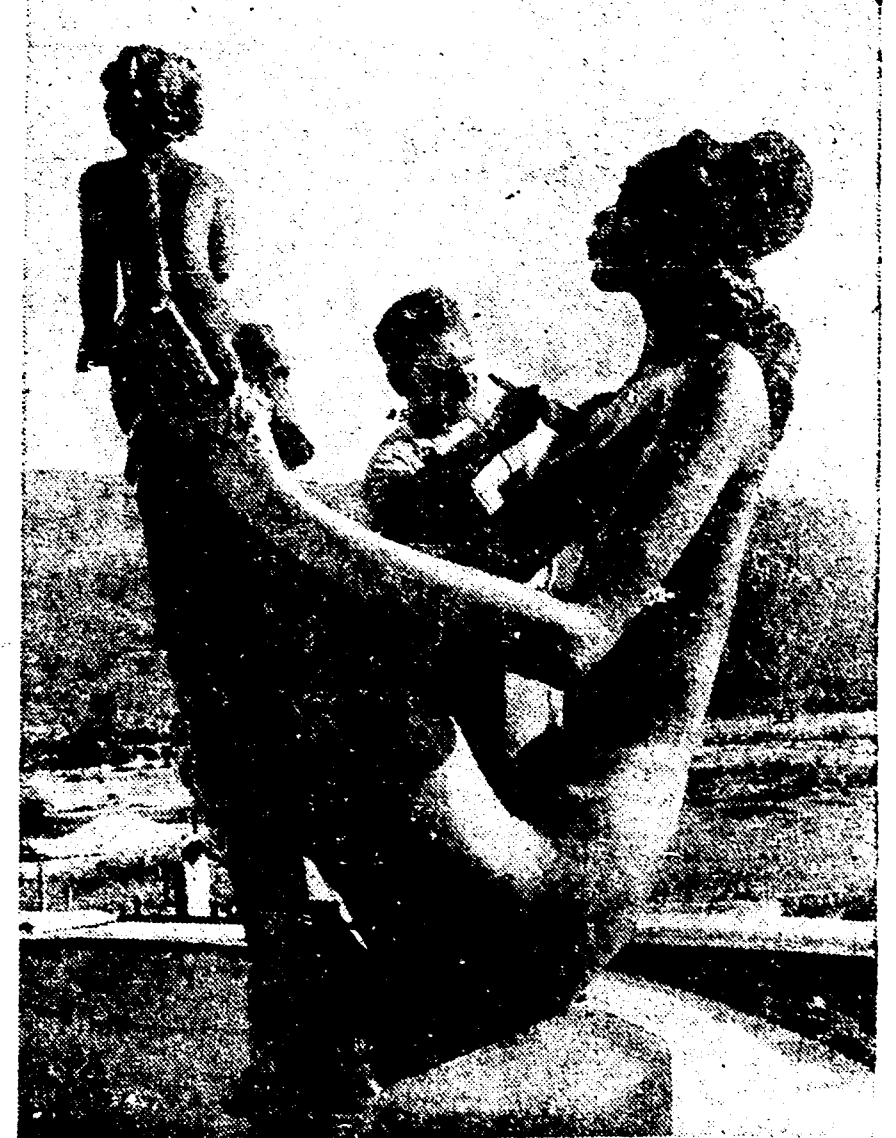

New Gas Allotment Gives Small Rise In House Heating

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 6.—(P)—Central Illinois utilities won't be able to add many new house heating customers under a proposed natural gas allocation by Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line, the Illinois Commerce Commission said today.

At a recent hearing in Washington, Panhandle proposed to give five central Illinois distributing companies an additional 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day.

Norman J. Schultz, ICC engineer who attended the hearing, said the five companies will be able to add "relatively few" house heating customers from their share of the allocation.

The hearing has been continued until Oct. 18.

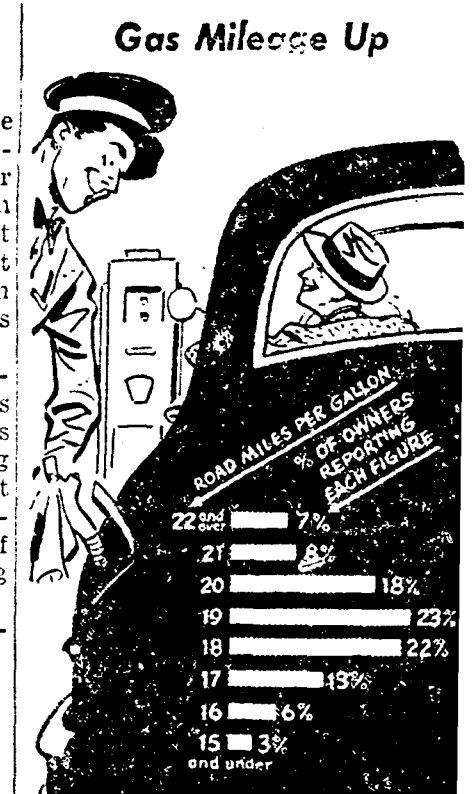

FOR "FESTIVAL OF PEACE"—The Finnish sculptor Arvi Tynns works on a large cement statue, called "Mother and Child," at Port-au-Prince, Haiti. Two thousand persons are at work in the area preparing for the $28,000,000 world's fair opening in December. Theme of the exposition will be "Festival of Peace."

CHURCH BOARDS TO CONVENE FRIDAY

The board of trustees of the State Street Presbyterian church has issued an invitation to the two other boards of the church, the Session and Deacons, to meet with them at the church on Friday evening at 7:30 p. m. for the discussion of an important phase of the church's work for the new year.

William O. Randall who is president of the board of trustees, has convened that group for three weeks where informative and interesting discussions were held. He felt that in order for the other groups to become as well versed in this phase of the work that a combined meeting would be necessary.

All officers are urged to be in attendance at the meeting.

Atomic Bomb Defense Seen Sure To Boom Growth Of This Area

Population shift specialists of the Bureau of Census in Washington, D.C., said Thursday that the steady growth of Jacksonville is apt to be accelerated considerably within the next decade or so.

The reason: the atom bomb, they say.

The "discovery" of Russia's A-bomb target areas in the United States disclosed that large population centers, particularly those with a high concentration of heavy industry, will suffer most in case a future enemy successfully drops or directs atomic bombs.

Both government and industry may be expected to speed decentralization programs. Inland cities with room for expansion and along national transportation routes necessarily will be enlarged greatly through the decentralization of industry and government.

Virginia Kiwanians Plan Halloween Party Oct. 31

Virginia — The Virginia Kiwanis club members are sponsoring the annual Halloween party for the Virginia children and they hope, for some of the grownups too. President Paul E. Young appointed David Finney, E. E. Lammont, and John Byus as members of the committee to arrange for the party. The old timers, W. R. Hiermar and Glenn Colburn, with the cooperation of Glenn Birnbaum, will try to fill up the kids with hotdogs. The party is planned for Monday evening, Oct. 31 and will be staged on the Virginia public square, weather permitting.

With the new lighting about the square the parade should be very colorful. In case of unfavorable weather the party will be held at the Virginia Community high school gym.

President Young appointed Members Colburn, Snow and Higgins as the nominating committee for officers for the ensuing year.

Dr. H. A. Snow gave an interesting account of his recent visit to the Sand Hills section of Nebraska. Dr. Snow, who is one of Cass county's successful cattle feeders, stated that for some time he had been interested in going out and seeing this section of Nebraska and purchasing some feeders on the spot.

He found this area well grassed and with an abundant supply of water for stock. Cattle are driven, not trucked, into the central places for sales.

The natives told some tall tales of how deep snow was last winter. The only protection the cattle have against inclement weather is what nature affords. Last winter there was quite a death loss of cattle and even now many of the survivors give evidence of the rigors of the past winter. One or both ears may be missing or a tail gone.

Horses and planes are the popular methods of transportation. A plane can land most any place and the main hazards are duck ponds and the ducks on them.

Dr. Snow purchased three carloads of feeders and they are now in his feedlots.

Beardstown Flood Bill Gets Preliminary Okay

A proposal to include the Beardstown flood control bill was approved Thursday by the U. S. Senate Public Works committee. Preliminary plans indicate it will cost $276,000 to make Beardstown safe from flood waters.

The proposal has had the enthusiastic support of Senator Scott Lucas and Congressman Sid Simpson of Carrollton.

The committee yesterday approved $1,564,228,650 worth of flood control and navigation projects. It added nearly a half-billion dollars worth of new authorizations the House-passed version of the omnibus rivers and harbors and flood control bill.

The authorization bill provides no money, but makes projects eligible for future appropriations. Money for plans and construction must be provided in subsequent appropriations.

Litigation May Result If Another Carrier Gets Parks

Washington, Oct. 6.—(P)—The possibility of litigation resulting if another carrier obtains Parks Air Line routes in the midwest came up today.

A mid-continent Airline spokesman brought up the possibility at a Civil Aeronautics board meeting in the Parks investigation case, involving 4000-miles of feeder routes in 11 mid-western states.

J. W. Miller, Mid-Continent's president, said Parks believed it had a legal right to the routes which the CAB awarded the line sometime ago. He said for this reason litigation might occur if the line was deprived of its certificates.

Parks, of East St. Louis, Ill., has never started operations. It informed the board last week it was ready to fly the routes itself with single engine planes or with multi-engine planes through a proposed merger with Mid-Continent of Kansas City.

This hearing is to determine whether Parks certificates should be continued or revoked. The board also may decide on the proposed merger plan or award the routes to other applicants.

Miller said the Parks firm felt there was some question as to whether the CAB has the right to change awards.

MET BASS TO SING OCT. 16

Jerome Hines, handsome, big-voiced bass currently in his fourth season with the Metropolitan Opera will appear here on the afternoon of Sunday, Oct. 16, to open the Civic Music 1949-50 season. He will sing at 4 p.m. at the Jacksonville high school auditorium.

The tall, 28-year-old vocalist who became an outstanding member of the Met after his debut in 1946 hails from Hollywood. At 18, while studying chemistry and mathematics at the University of California at Los Angeles, Mr. Hines made his professional bow with the Civic Light Opera company of that city, singing with John Charles Thomas. As a result of this performance, he was engaged while still a sophomore at UCLA, by the San Francisco Opera company for the following season.

By the time he received his B.A. degree in 1943, he had appeared as soloist at the Hollywood Bowl and with the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

Mr. Hines has played leading bass roles in opera festivals in Montreal, Central City, Colorado, and with the New Orleans Opera. Last summer he appeared at the Goethe Festival in Aspen, Colo., and as Baron Ochs in "Der Rosenkavalier" in a performance under the direction of Fritz Busch at Ravinia.

Winner of the Metropolitan Opera $1,000 Caruso award, Mr. Hines has been labelled by the New York Times as "one of the most gifted of the young American artists." The young basso has more than 30 operas and 150 songs in his repertory.

Officers of Civic Music said last night that the complete program for the season would be announced soon after the close of the membership campaign, which ends Saturday evening. They said, however, that the National Male quartet, well received last year, will be returned this winter by popular request.

Youth Needs More Help, Havighurst Tells Kiwanians

"Approximately fifteen percent of our youth have a poor chance of being able to make the adjustments in life necessary to success. It is our job to find out as early as possible who these children are and to reach them with community youth programs," Dr. Robert James Havighurst, noted educator and author, declared Thursday noon in an address to the Kiwanis club on the subject, "Youth and the Community."

The typical community now does much more for its young people than it did a generation ago, yet young people do not appear to be growing up any more successfully. Dr. Havighurst observed. This is probably true because we are not reaching the areas of greatest need. Dr. Havighurst recommended that screening processes be adopted to determine which children need special attention. Then, he declared, an individual program should be worked out for each needy youngster.

The speaker was introduced by Darrell Blodgett, Kiwanis program chairman for the day, and Hugh Green responded to the address.

No charges were placed against the woman and Kelsh said he would await the verdict of a coroner's inquest set for tomorrow.

Kelsh gave this version of the altercation:

Harold Martin Van Hoesen and his daughter argued over his proposal that she take a mental and physical examination by a Veterans Administration physician.

During the argument, the woman grabbed her father's necktie and pulled it tight.

He felt ill sometime later and a physician was called to their home. Van Hoesen died after the physician arrived, apparently from heart disease.

The fair people want to get rid of Susie. She cost them $100 but they'll give her away for nothing.

But so far they have had no takers. All the zoos they called don't want any lionesses. The zoos said thanks but they have enough now.

And last Monday, when 150 other animals were sold quickly, nobody paid any attention to poor Susie.

She was a feature of the circus parade in the Gay Nineties scene in the "Wheels A-Rolling" pageant at the fair, which closed a two year run Oct. 2. Nearly a million and a half people saw her.

But now not even the Buffalo, N. Y. zoo, her birthplace, wants her. "She's not fierce, she just looks fierce," a fair spokesman said, somewhat wistfully.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—(P)—If you knew Susie like we know Susie you'd want her for your very own.

That's what the Chicago railroad fair people say about their three year old lioness. So far nobody has agreed.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—(P)—A Milwaukee-to-Chicago barge tug, distressed by failing engines in heavy weather on Lake Michigan, limped into port at 1:30 p.m. (CST) today at Waukegan, north of Chicago.

The tug, "Rogers," was assisted by the coast guard cutter Frederick Lee from Chicago, which answered a call for help. Captain George J. Kohlbeck of the Rogers said the tug left Milwaukee at 7 p.m. (CST) last night but encountered engine trouble, rough weather, and low visibility.

Civic Music Drive To End Saturday; Membership Gains

The Jacksonville Civic Music association's yearly membership campaign will conclude at 5 p.m. Saturday.

Dick McGurk, Civic Music representative from the national office, said, "The campaign is progressing in excellent fashion, and with a honest effort on the part of the volunteer working force, the total membership should equal, or exceed last year's all time high." "The more members that an association can obtain will automatically raise the artist's budget; the more members—the better quality of attractions," he went on to say. After the deadline is reached on Saturday there will be no memberships sold. No single tickets will be sold to individual concerts during the year.

Civic Music headquarters are located in the lobby of the Dunlap hotel. Any prospective member may purchase a membership there or may contact one of the volunteer workers on the campaign. The special telephone number is 145.

Dugan Heads Drive To Sign Members For Scott Legion

Winchester—A membership drive by the Winchester Julian Wells Post 442 of the American Legion to be held during the month of October was planned at a meeting of the post in the Legion building Wednesday evening.

Commander Richard Mann named Don Dugan chairman of the drive to be assisted by a committee to be named this week. A concerted effort will be made to surpass last year's record membership of 225.

The expected report by the building committee regarding the installation of a heating plant and the expansion of the building was deferred until next week's Wednesday night meeting. The post voted to meet on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month in order not to conflict with the Auxiliary meeting held on the first Wednesday of each month.

A report was given by Past Commander L. A. Watt on the state convention held in Chicago to which he and Raugh Jennings were delegates.

A refreshment committee headed by Robert Lawrence served coffee home-made doughnuts.

Havighurst Tells Role Of Successful Teacher

"The School's Responsibility for the Guidance of Children" was discussed by Dr. Robert James Havighurst, distinguished educator, author and lecturer, in a stimulating address given as the closing feature of the first day's session of the Morgan county teachers' institute Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Havighurst pointed out to the group the positions which the teacher must assume in efforts to supplement the guidance of students.

"On the primary level," declared Dr. Havighurst, "the teacher must be a sort of parent substitute, able to instill in her pupils a certain confidence to guide them in making the transition from the security of their home life to give and take of a relationship with other children."

The intermediate teacher, continued the speaker, should be, figuratively speaking, a sort of umpire or committee chairman, whose job it is to supervise, in a subtle manner if possible, the progress of the students.

The high school teacher, according to Dr. Havighurst, is called upon to be a model for the students. Although the imitation of a teacher is subconscious in nature, the student will acquire as his own certain traits, characteristics and mannerisms which he, knowingly or otherwise, admires in the instructor.

The student of high school age is at the point where he is beginning to make the initial break with his parents, severing the ties which bind him to his childhood. It is at this time, that he begins to seek someone other than his parents, forces outside the realm of his home, after which to pattern himself.

Teachers are, of course, stated Dr. Havighurst, expected to guide students in mastering fundamental skills of the intellect, in social development, choice of occupation and character building. All too often their responsibilities for the guidance of their students do not end with these things; they must go further and offer special assistance to the children whose parents are not adequate guides.

Dr. Havighurst's address was preceded by a demonstration of audio visual training by Miss Elizabeth Bloss, primary instructor at the C. M. Bardwell school in Aurora.

Miss Bloss' demonstration was entitled "The Use of the Motion Picture to Enrich the Elementary Curriculum." She was assisted by a group of third grade pupils.

Truck Turns Over Near Jerseyville

Jerseyville — A large transport outfit hauling Budweiser beer from St. Louis into this section of Illinois was wrecked early Tuesday morning on State Route 16, four miles west of Jerseyville.

The transport was loaded only with empties as deliveries of beer had already been made in this area. The driver of the tractor reported to state police officer Wilson Schultz that he went to sleep at the wheel and the outfit left the highway and overturned. At the time of the accident the driver had completed his deliveries and pickups in this part of Illinois and was enroute home to St. Louis.

The driver escaped from the cab without assistance and suffered nothing more serious than a sprained wrist.

FOREIGN BROADCASTS INCREASE RECORDINGS

New York—(P)—Since all radio networks have lifted the ban against recorded relays, use of transcriptions for overseas broadcasts coming via short wave has noticeably increased.

Particularly is this true with news programs. Through the recordings, the original transmissions can come when the reception is best. Also, because of the wide time difference, they can be handled at hours convenient to both sides irrespective of the time the network relay is actually made.

Another point: Should some part of a broadcast be lost in interference, it can be repeated immediately or even later.

"THIRTY" IS TELEGRAPH SYMBOL

New York —(P)—The term "thirty" which in newspaper parlance means the end of an item, originated back in the early days of the telegraph.

At that time operators, writing longhand, used the symbol "XXX" to designate the end of a dispatch filed by a newspaper correspondent. The "XX" constituting the Roman numeral for "20," it quickly translated itself into the now familiar "thirty."

A&P, TOO, TAKES OFF ITS HAT TO MR. C. WHIT BLOUNT OF WAYNESBORO, GEORGIA

-AND TO ALL OUR OTHER GOOD COMPETITORS WHO HAVE TAKEN A SIMILAR STAND

[An Editorial From The Atlanta Journal, Thursday, Sept. 29, 1949]

Competitor Denounces Suit Against A&P

THE BOLD three-column advertisement in the current issue of the Waynesboro True Citizen catches the reader's eye. We quote it in full.

To our notion that advertisement by C. Whit Blount states the economic and governmental aspects of the case against A&P with a clarity and forcefulness that most of the editorial comment has lacked.

Also it strikes us as a fine example of sportsmanship in business.

Incidentally, it is about as effective an advertisement as could have been written for Mr. Blount's "Groceteria".

Makes you sort of wish you were in Waynesboro to trade with him, doesn't it?

[An Advertisement From The Waynesboro True Citizen]

A Word For Our Competitor The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

There has been a move by the anti-trust department of the Federal Government to destroy our leading competitor, the A&P Food Store.

It may seem odd, but we are opposed to this move.

The A&P Co., is definitely our strongest competitor - they keep us hopping. But, we are still in business - And Expanding. We do it by selling quality merchandise, buying at a close margin and selling at CLOSER margin.

The so called "trust-busters" charge that the A&P Co. control some of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they hold the cost price down on foods.

WELL, WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS??

If A&P holds the costs down, it makes our suppliers hold their costs down to the same competitive level. They can sell cheaper, AND SO CAN WE.

We intend to continue to try to sell better merchandise than A&P; We also will continue to have competitive prices.

BUT, We don't believe the government, or any individual should try to break up a firm that is doing a good, clean, efficient job of serving the people of this country.

RABBIT STOCKS MENTAL MEDICINE CHEST

San Pedro, Calif. (P)—Neurotic? Try Rabbi William M. Kramer's prescription for better mental health. A mental medicine chest, the cleric told the Kiwanis club here, is just as necessary these days as the family medicine cabinet. People must act to prevent disorders of the mind, as well as the body, he said.

To stock a mental medicine chest, Rabbi Kramer recommended four books. Written by a Catholic, a Protestant, a Jew, and a layman, he believes they can help people maintain a normal outlook on life.

The books are: "Peace of Soul," by Fulton Sheen; "Guide to Confident Living," by N. V. Peale; "Peace of Mind," by J. L. Liebman; and "How to Stop Worrying and Start Living," by Dale Carnegie.

"SPIRIT" BRINGS TROUBLE

Salvador, Brazil (P)—Antonie Felix, a 50-year-old worker, decided an evil spirit had taken over his body and went to see a female witch-doctor to get him out. She tied him to a chair and beat him with a sword of ogun—a tough, leathery palm leaf shaped like a sword.

Then she placed a pot full of black powder under his nose and told him to look at a pretty little thing inside. "He looked. She dropped a lighted match in the pot to blow the evil spirit back where he came from."

He is now in a hospital seriously burned. She is in jail.

THE STORY: Jenny is not a happy girl. She is married to Tod Duncan. First they live with Tod's widowed mother, his brother, Joe, and sister, Harriet, who dislike her. Later they move to a disreputable trailer camp while Tod finishes college. Jenny must accept her job as a model when she learns she is to become a mother. Tod meets Rick Morris, an old chum, who advises Tod to forget his divorcee mother who killed Tod, but whom Tod can't forget. Jenny believes Tod married her "on the rebound." There are financial difficulties and Jenny sells an old fishing shack owned by her father to get money to live on. Then Tod's mother calls with news that Tod's brother Joe has embezzled money and Tod must help him out. Tod sells his car to get Joe out of trouble.

XVI

THE girls at the shop gave a shower for Jenny. Everyone seemed anxious to do anything they could to please her. She had a happy faculty of making friends easily. Already she knew every single family in the trailer camp. And Tod knew scarcely any of them except the Hansens.

It might be all right to chum around with people like that, Tod thought, if you had never known the other kind. But once you'd cultivated a taste for champagne, it was a bit hard to stick to nothing but beer. Of course there was always Rick, one of the champagne crowd, you might say. He did things in a broad, handsome way. Once, for instance, he brought Jenny a dozen long-stemmed roses in a white box tied with ribbon, because she had invited him to dinner.

Rick invited the two of them to drive home with him to Center-ville, 50 miles south, to spend Christmas with him and his mother. Tod thought it a grand idea, but Jenny demurred on the sentimental grounds that they should spend their first Christmas alone together. Jenny had a queer sentimental streak in her, Tod thought. For instance, the small blue powder box that Rick had left for her beneath the tree, seemed to mean more to her than the expensive robe he himself had bought her. Maybe it was because the powder box played "Rockabye Baby." And all Jenny could seem to think about was the baby.

Jenny found herself depending on Rick in a lot of ways. Sensing her moods, he catered to them, which Tod never tried to do. In January there was an especially heavy snowfall, and Jenny mentioned something about what fun it must have been in the old days to go sleigh-riding. The next day there was a wild ringing of bells and the sound of horses' hoofs, and there was Rick with an old sleigh he'd rented from some farmer. He took Jenny and Tod and the Hansens for a hilarious ride.

TOD, watching the way Rick's eyes clung to Jenny's face, knew he ought to feel jealous, but he didn't somehow. All he felt was a vague restlessness.

Jenny was happy these days, and had turned thoroughly domestic. She met with the weekly home economics club of the camp, to discuss husbands, babies, new recipes and trailer camp gossip.

February was a miserable month, bitterly cold and wet. Tod and Jenny kept pretty well to the trailer. Tod, wading snow across the campus to go to his classes, or to the grocery for Jenny, tried hard not to grumble about their lack of a car, but he felt sullen about it. He was still worried about their financial situation.

Ma kept troubling him with her affairs too. Joe never wrote to her; she didn't even know where he was; and she was having trouble with Harriet. She was always phoning Tod and wanting him to come over. One particularly miserable night in March she insisted that he come across town to her apartment. She was all alone. Harriet had left for good. "But Ma," Tod explained patiently, "I can't very well come."

Jenny's all alone and what if she should get sick while I was gone?"

"Yes, of course, she comes first," Ma began to weep. Her sobs made little hiccupy noises in the receiver of the phone. "I don't have anyone that cares anything about me now." The desperate note in her words frightened him. He felt that he had better go.

Jenny wanted to point out that he was her only refuge also. But like Ma he was touchy about the tiniest hint of criticism. She let him go. After all, if she needed help she could rouse the Hansens. And anyway, the baby wasn't due for another week.

BUT the wildness of the night and the sense of being alone gave Jenny an uneasy feeling. Almost as soon as Tod left, it began to sleet. The sound droned softly on the roof of the trailer and pattered against the windows. She looked through the window facing the Hansen trailer after a while and she noticed that it was dark. Tod had forgotten to make sure they were going to be home all evening.

Panic came to her quite suddenly with the first sharp twinges of pain. The hour that ensued was like a nightmare. She tried to keep calm by getting her overnight case ready to take to the hospital. Tod said he would not stay long. She did not dare venture out of the trailer because the ground was covered with ice and the wind was blowing the sleet in a steady drumming against the trailer now.

She grew no longer aware of time, only the dark waves of pain that caught her in their relentless grip over and over again. She was crying.

Then came a knock at the door. She called out, as the blackness caught her relentlessly again. All at once she was aware of Rick's calm presence, his hands putting her arms into her coat, his arms about her as he carried her to his car.

His overcoat was rough against her face. "Oh, Rick, I'm so glad you came! So glad!"

"Jenny, darling, don't worry. Everything'll be all right."

$1,000,000 YEAST INSURED BY FALSTAFF

Falstaff is brewed with a yeast so rare, so precious it's insured for one million dollars. Yeast is important to beer in its flavor-building quality. And no two yeast cultures are alike, which explains the tremendous value of Falstaff's yeast.

Falstaff's famous yeast is one of the world's very few yeast cultures kept alive straight through many generations, including the prohibition years. Nothing could take the place of this thoroughbred strain of remarkable purity and flavor-building ability.

In addition to the Premium Quality malt, hops, and rice used in brewing Falstaff, it is this yeast—unique as any human family characteristic—which gives Falstaff a flavor no beer can duplicate. A flavor that's always premium quality, uniformly good, wherever you buy and enjoy your Falstaff!

Called "The Choicest Product of the Brewers' Art"—3 Generations Ago—Today, too!
